Hampton Police are attempting to locate the owner of a set of tools found on the road back on November 6th 2007. A resident found the property on the street near the Five Corners intersection (High Street & Locke Road). It seems as though the tools may have fallen from a passing car or truck.

To prompt someone's memory, the found property consists of battery operated 18-volt power tools in a box, along with a bag containing other assorted tools. The property is ready for return to the owner who can describe and identify their missing items.
